

Ophthalmologist Robert Ramsay, MD

Our Honored guest this year is distinguished ophthalmologist Robert Ramsay, MD. Known by his patients for his care and compassion, he has coached many future physicians as a Clinical Professor of Ophthalmology at the University of Minnesota since 1988, and through four decades of medical clinical research experience he has discovered the answers to many major eye issues. Dr. Ramsay is the founder of VitreoRetinal Surgery, P.A.

Dr. Ramsay makes contributions to numerous professional organizations including the National Institute of Health, American Academy of Ophthalmology and as a scientific reviewer for numerous journals of medicine.

Because of Dr. Ramsay's interest and commitment to improving therapy for patients with serious retinal disease he helped establish the VitreoRetinal Surgery Foundation in 2005, which stimulates clinical research and education.

He is married to Dr. Norma Ramsay, Professor Emeritus, Department of Pediatrics, Oncology and Bone Marrow Transplantation, University of Minnesota. They have two children, Eric and David
